THE CITY COUNCIL

Wrestles With the License Ordinance.

The City Council met in adjourned session on Monday evening, went into Committee of the Whole and proceeded to consider the License Ordinance presented at the last meeting. After hearing complaints from various persons, that portion of the ordinance fixing a uniform license of $30 for all business houses was referred to a special committee, and the following reductions were made in other licenses: Huckster license reduced from $20 to $10, Water Company's license from $150 to $100, Gas Company's license from $250 to $125, proposed license against telegraph companies stricken out because of Supreme Court decisions, steam and hand laundries from $50 to $25, laundry agents from $30 to $10, street car license from $5 to $1 per car.

Without concluding their labors the Committee of the Whole adjourned to meet again on Tuesday evening.

Several members of the License Committee were so disgusted with the way the ordinance, upon which they had bestowed so much time and labor, was treated that they will decline further to serve on the committee.

The gentlemen who are favoring wholesale reductions should remember that it will require just so much money to pay the interest upon the bonded debt of the city, to which purpose the license tax must be dedicated, and if the council fails to raise that amount from licenses the deficit will have to be made good from some other source, and it will be well to study the question a little before acting hastily.

Coming Home.

Mr. Hugh R. Ayres, who has been living in Louisville for several years, will return here to reside the first of the month. He is employed in the engineering department of the L. & N. Railroad, but his wife does not have good health in Louisville, which necessitates a change. The old family homestead, on the corner of Main and Cross streets, will be repaired and fitted up for their occupancy, and while Mrs. Ayres will remain here all the time he will retain his position with the railroad and make frequent visits home.

At the Opera House.

The T. B. Alexander Company has been playing to rather small houses at the Opera House this week, but deserves much better patronage, as the company is composed of very good actors and the plays they have been presenting are mostly new. They will close their engagement to-night, when "Meg, the Outcast," will be presented. This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock a matinee will be given for the benefit of ladies and children. The play will be "Mabel Heath," and each child in attendance will be presented with a sack of candy. Both performances should be well attended.

False Alarm.

A large black and tan hound, which had been anointed with turpentine by some heartless wretch, caused a stampede on the St. Clair street bridge and Bridge street early Wednesday morning by his antics, the impression being created that he was mad. The poor brute suffered intensely and tried to ask the best he could of those passing to relieve him of his suffering.

Real Estate Transfers.

Mr. H. F. Showalter sold his farm of 79 acres, lying in the river bottom above the mouth of Cedar Run, on Monday, to Mr. Sam Grimes for $2,500 cash. Mr. Showalter has purchased the farm of Mr. James Moore, lying on the Devil's Hollow pike, near Conway's Mill, known as the Fox place, containing 70 acres, for which he paid $1,950 cash.

Grasp the Opportunity.

Our enterprising druggist, P. H. CARPENTER, cordially invites you to try a 25c. bottle of Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure. This new remedy acts quickly on the bronchial tubes, throat and lungs, lessens the desire to cough and heals mucous membrane. If consumption it will cure you. Pleasant to take. The children like it.

Blackburn Place Sold.

Mr. Frank Chinn sold at public auction, on Monday, the Blackburn place, lying in the southern suburbs of the city, to Mr. L. F. Johnson, for $2,550. The place contains two acres of ground, with a comfortable cottage residence upon it, and Mr. Johnson got a bargain, as the price was very low.

In the Pen.

Frank Searce, the young Lexington real estate man who committed numerous forgeries last summer, was received at the penitentiary in this city Tuesday, and has commenced to serve a ten year's sentence.

The Modern Way

Commends itself to the well-formed, to do pleasantly and effectually what was formerly done in the crudest manner and disagreeable as well. To cleanse the system and break up colds, headaches and fevers without unpleasant after effects, use the delightful liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs.

AN OLD TIMER'S STATEMENT.

Fast Time on the First Railroad in the State.

A few of our citizens were standing together talking on the street the other day, when the subject of railroads came up, and an old resident remarked that on one occasion in 1837, when the railroad from Lexington to this place came down the hill into the city about where the Kentucky Midland Railway now runs, a heavy snow storm was coming up, and the train drawn by the first engine ever on the road made the run from the old depot at the top of the hill to Lexington in eighteen minutes. A bystander remarked that as the distance was 26 miles, the train must have run at about the rate of a mile and a quarter a minute, which was a little better time than was made nowadays. But as the old citizen said he was told at the time the speed the train made, and left the impression upon his hearers that it was running away from the snow storm, the point was yielded; though some seemed to think the pace just a little fast for so young a railroad.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives the best satisfaction of any cough medicine I handle, and as a seller leads all other preparations in this market. I recommend it because it is the best medicine I ever handled for coughs, colds and croup. A. W. BALDRIDGE, Millersville, Ill. For sale by P. H. CARPENTER, South Side Druggist.

Announcement.

No apology is necessary on the score of medical propriety for thus announcing to the profession and the public, that we have made a long, careful and special study of cancerous diseases, together with all malignant and other tumors, and are able to offer the results of our extensive experience in Kentucky and surrounding countries in a system of rational and successful treatment, that we believe has never heretofore been attained, and we are able to point to thousands of successful cases—not in a boasting, but rather in a spirit of thankfulness, that we are thus able to prove so clearly our assertion; that our system does cure cancer. With a positive knowledge of this fact now so fully endorsed by thousands of sufferers, and approved by the profession, we should be wanting in humanity if we neglected any means in our power to spread the glad tidings among those afflicted with this most terrible and hopeless of diseases.

The largest Stock and Lowest Prices, for the best quality, and such as you are looking to purchase.

We have printed a pamphlet giving the symptoms, cause, varieties, &c., of cancers and tumors. Anyone feeling interesting can get a copy free by addressing,

Society Notes.

Miss Mary Lee Long entertained at her home near Peak's Mill Saturday evening in honor of Miss Sellie Newton, of the Switzer neighborhood, who had been visiting her for several days. Mr. Pat Hodges rendered some very fine music on his guitar, the house was beautifully illuminated and the guests were entertained in handsome style. Miss Long is a great favorite in the society of the neighborhood and has numerous friends throughout the county.
The Misses Dudley will entertain at cards, at their home on Ann street, Monday evening.
A Quarter Century Test.
For a quarter of a century Dr. King's New Discovery has been tested, and the millions who have received benefit from its use testify to its wonderful curative powers in all diseases of throat, chest and lungs. A remedy that has stood the test so long and has given so universal satisfaction is no experiment. Each bottle is positively guaranteed to give relief, or the money will be refunded. It is admitted to be the most reliable for coughs and colds. Trial bottles free at F. H. CARPENTERS drugstore. Large size 50 cents and $1.

THE BRIDGE

Will be Thrown Open for Vehicle Travel To-day.

After several days of dicker and cross-firing the Bridge Committee and Mr. Cowing, the representative of the King-Briggs Company, have come to an understanding and the bridge will likely be thrown open for vehicle travel this afternoon. The committee agrees to pay over to the company all of the unpaid balance upon the contract except $5,000, which is to be retained by the city and county until the old piers are removed from the river, and Mr. Cowing is to turn over the bridge at once. This agreement, of course, is to be approved by the City Council and County Court. The council met last night to act on the matter and the County Court meets this morning.

Workmen were busy yesterday relaying the floor, where it had been removed to take stone from the old piers, clearing off the rubbish and removing the engine used in hoisting heavy weights, so that everything is now ready for the work to be given when wagons, carriages and vehicles of all kinds will begin to stream across the new structure.

Will Run To-day.

One of the electric generators at the power house is up and ready for use, the cars will arrive from the factory this morning and it is expected to have them running this afternoon.

Persons wishing to go to the cemetery to-morrow can ride from any part of the city to the cemetery gate. The generator now up will give all the power necessary to operate the cars, but another has been purchased and is being placed in position, so that it can be used in case of an accident to the other at anytime in the future.

The Birds Here.

The sportsmen of this city sent to Arkansas several weeks ago for sixteen dozen partridges to restock the farms in this county, and the birds were received on Monday. Two dozen of them were dead when they arrived but the rest were in fair condition and were taken to the best localities and turned loose. It is hoped they will so multiply during the brooding season that the shooting, which has been very poor in this section for the past year, will be excellent next fall.

Go to W. J. Scott's for Aromalt, the great health drink, 18-6t.

To Shorten Time.

In order to meet sharp competition for eastern passenger traffic, the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad will in a short time reduce running time between Louisville and New York so as to land passengers in that city two hours earlier. The change in the schedule will consist in a reduction of the number of stops between Louisville and this city so as to bring the running time, which is now two hours and eight minutes, down to less than two hours, while the balance of the time will be gained between this city and Huntington.

A True Friend.

"A friend in need is a friend indeed." Every family should be prepared to treat scalds, burns, bruises, wounds, cuts, etc., by keeping a box of Dr. Hale's Household Ointment handy. FRANKFORT, MARCH 24, 1894.

A COLLISION.

A Wagon Damaged and Horse Crippled.

Saturday evening, about 7 o'clock, an alarm of fire was sent in from box 14, occasioned by a small blaze in one of the Halmthumber houses, on Logan street. The fire alarm wire was crossed with a telephone wire and the current was deflected so that the alarm never reached the central station, but rang all right on the "tapper" at the South Side Station and the boys were out promptly. They started out Second street and their horse was just getting straightened out, and going at a lively rate, when they met two countrymen on horseback, who failed to give the road. They yelled to the men to get out of the way and Mr. George Brawner, the driver for the No. 1's, tried to pull out, but the wheel of the hose wagon hung on the street car track and slid along the rail. Mr. James Metz, one of the countrymen, was just in line with the wheels on the left side and the wagon came in contact with his horse, one of the front wheels passing between its hind legs, cutting one of them fearfully. Mr. George Brawner was thrown from the wagon by the shock and had his leg cut in the fall, but Metz kept his seat on his horse, although a jug of molasses he was carrying was broken and a lot of groceries scattered upon the street. It was at first thought his horse's leg was broken, but after allowing him to stand a while he got his foot to the ground and was able to go on home.

Old Creed, the fire horse, a big powerful fellow, was going at such a clip that he could not be stopped for half a square, but when he did come to a standstill it was found that the cross bar of the shafts was broken and the wagon too much disabled to go on to the fire. Fortunately the blaze did not amount to much and a neighbor came along at that time saying it was all out.

Had the hose wagon been supplied with a gong the accident might not have happened. As no alarm was sounded from the tower bell, people in the vicinity were not aware that there was a fire until the wagon dashed up the street, and a gong on the wagon would have enabled the fire boys to warn them out of the way.

Paralyzed.

Mrs. James Pence, mother of Judge W. L. and Capt. S. V. Pence, was stricken with paralysis at her home in Bellepoint Sunday morning, the stroke rendering her speechless for several days, but she can now talk a little and is somewhat improved, but as she is 78 years of age little hope of her recovery is entertained.

General Comment.

The Senate Committee on Finance, on Tuesday, reported to that body the Wilson Tariff Bill as adopted by the whole Committee. The bill has been greatly changed, not only from the shape in which it passed the House, but also from that in which the subcommittee reported it to the full committee. The bill will be called up for consideration on the 2d of April by Senator Voorhes. It is more than probable that the income tax will be stricken out in Committee of the Whole, while the Bonded Period has been already extended in the bill as reported; so that two of the measures which excited the most general opposition after the bill passed the House are not likely to be put in force.

The death of Louis Kossuth, at the advanced age of ninety-two, is received by the older generation of this country as the loss of a personal friend. There were few men who could deliver orations in a foreign tongue with such eloquence and fervor as Kossuth exhibited in his addresses in this country in the fifties; and his aptitude for other languages is said to have been as great as that he displayed for English. The polyglot character of the Hungarian people doubtless contributed to this, but his individual capacity is none the less wonderful on that account. As a patriot, whose character was without stain, and for his unselfish devotion to his people, as well as for his sturdy independence of character, he was remarkable; and his life will be one of those of which the poet speaks:

"Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime;
And, departing, leave behind us
Footprints on the sands of time."

The people of Frankfort have a splendid chance to do some work towards securing a new Capitol building, in the meeting of the State Press Association here in the early summer. There are so many members of the Association who have scoffed at Frankfort in the past whose attitude could be changed by showing them fully what a beautiful spot the little valley really is. In this connection I would suggest that the people of Frankfort take a wider view of the subject themselves. The present site of the State House is not by any means an advantageous one. How much better a new building would look set upon Fort Hill, with grounds properly laid off and an electric railway or inclined plain provided for means of access. This project is usually characterized as visionary, but why so? Are the people of Kentucky (there are two millions of them and as a whole they are better off than the people of most States in the Union) utterly incapable of feeling that exaltation of spirit which beauty and harmony of surroundings inspires? We venture the assertion that if Frankfort starts a campaign of education she will find she has a very tractable set of pupils.

If all the people of Kentucky could be taken to the summit of that hill back of Bellepoint, which is the highest point immediately overlooking the city, and shown how naturally Fort Hill is the center of the valley; how commanding such a location would be; how, by the judicious expenditure of such a sum of money; which is small in comparison with the amounts other States have expended on their Capitols, it could be made a dream of beauty to remind the beholder of the hills and valleys of Italy; and if they could be kept there for time sufficient to subject them to that subtle, undefined charm which never fails to work its way in, to the heart of the beholder, there would be no more talk about the unsuitability of Frankfort for the State Capitol. I have seen many Capitols in many States, have been to many higher elevations and had many broader and more sweeping views of surrounding country; but never elsewhere have I been so profoundly impressed by the grandeur and softness, the strength combined with the delicate, dreamy beauty, of nature. This valley of ours is a part of the Italy of America. Is it not a pity that the soul of its people has never grasped its possibilities and made it the center of the artistic and cultured life of all the surrounding country?

The people of America are too devoted to the practical; they have but little time for the ideal. Few of our cities, however wealthy and intelligent they may be, were laid out with proper regard for beauty of situation. The people are not without artistic sense, but in this hasty, feverish life we lead it has remained to a great extent uncultivated. There are signs that this is changing. The Chicago of to-day is a startling contrast to that which was destroyed by the great fire. All the newer cities are laid out with more regard to beauty than the older ones. It will be a glorious thing for the people of Kentucky, if instead of spending a large sum of money for a gaudy building, they show their good taste by building a Capitol in a style of chaste simplicity, but so surrounded by, and in harmony with, the beauties of nature, as to seem a part of them. It can be done easily. Will Frankfort take the lead?

THE RECLUSE.

AN UNSEEN ENEMY

Is more to be dreaded than an open and visible one. That subtle and lurking foe, which, under the generic name of malaria, manifests itself when it clutches us in its tenacious grasp in the various forms of chills and fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague or ague cake, can only be effectually guarded against by fortifying the system against insidious attacks with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a thorough antidote to the poison of malarial in the system, and a safeguard against it thoroughly to be relied upon. In the event of a malarious attack, avoid poisoning your system with quinine, and use instead this wholesome remedy, unobtainable in taste and far more efficacious than any drug. Use it as a Bitter for dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, kidney complaints and rheumatism.

FRANKFORT, MARCH 24, 1894.

An Invitation.

"O, Be Joyful!" Join our band,
Where Venus sits, and Palms grand;
And where Apollo tunes his harp,
While Cupid trims his arrows sharp.

Come where fires of Vesta glow,
And wines of Hebe freely flow;
Where Iros stands, with torch aflame,
And Ate and Eris fly for shame.

Come where Thalia's smile abides,
And Ceres o'er the feast presides;
Join the throng, with Phoebus sing,
And let your voice with Mælius ring.

THE "O. B. J."

Light On a Mystery.

The following was held over from the last week's letter of our Pea Ridge correspondent:

The following bit of history throws some light on what was regarded as a mysterious case:

"You see, I hooped it from Lexington to Frankfort and got a job cleaning brick and waiting on masons. It was at a distillery where a house filled with whisky had fallen down. While tearing down and rebuilding the wall a plank sloping from the scaffold to the second story was used to slide
the brick down.

Coming back from dinner one day I saw one of the men go through the hole in the wall and roll a barrel of whisky up the plank, take out the bung and drink. Seeing me, he invited me to join him, which I did, and after drinking what we wanted we filled up a water bucket, which we divided with the other workmen.
When that was gone we filled it again, not only that day but every day until the hole in the wall was closed. Besides what we drank, I suppose there was 25 or 30 of us, nearly every one of us carried home a dinner bucket full every night, besides the number of bottles and tomato cans that we gave away to those who we not so fortunately placed as we were.

Finally the masons built up the hole in the wall, much to our regret, but we managed to fill up several old powder kegs which lasted us some time. Then the other end of the house was torn down and rebuilt, during which time we did the same as at the other end of the building.

One day soon after the wall was finished some iron gratings were sent to fix in the holes in the wall.
One of the holes was used for the workmen to conceal their tools in at night. Looking through the hole one evening I saw a man under the floor with an auger, he called to me to bring him a bucket.
I crawled under with the bucket and he bored several holes through the floor until he struck a barrel of whisky, he drew out the auger and I held the bucket and it was soon filled. We plugged up the auger hole with a stick and carried out the bucket and divided it.

I was coming out with a bucket of liquor one day just as the Government storekeeper came along so I put the bucket down. "What are you doing under there?" said

he. "Went to get this shovel," said I, and picked up a shovel and showed him. "All right," said he,
and went on.

We used that hole under the floor as long as I worked there.
When one barrel gave out we tapped another and we put no less than a thousand holes in the floor, for many times we would strike the iron hoops on the barrel with the auger and have to to bore again.

After being so nearly caught by the storekeeper we had a code of signals. "Bring my shovel," meant stay under, the storekeeper is near by. "Bring my hammer," meant "all clear, bring out the liquor."

Some months after my job was finished I met a friend of mine in Lexington who told me there was a lot of trouble at Frankfort about a lot of whisky that had evaporated at some distillery and that several judges, storekeepers, collectors and others had been examining it to the cause of 20 or 30 gallons evaporating from some barrels while others near by lost only a gallon or two. Finally some of the big men in the revenue service came on from Washington and held a big investigation and succeeded in proving that quite a number of the barrels were not as full as they might have been. Some of the witnesses said it was leakage and some said it was evaporation. He said that it cost about $20,000 to get out of it, but whether the Government paid that much to the distiller for the loss of his whisky or the distiller paid that amount to the Government for tax I didn't inquire, because I cared nothing about it. As regards the evidence for the evaporation theory, it was proved by so many respectable witnesses that I am not willing to dispute the matter. It might have been caused in that manner to some extent, but my opinion is, with all due respect to the evaporation party, that some of the loss at least was due to leakage.

Deaths.

MASTIN—Mr. Lucian W. Mastin, youngest son of Mr. John W. Mastin and wife, died at the home of his parents, on Ann street, Wednesday morning just before 6 o'clock, after an illness of only a few weeks. To all appearances, a month ago, he was a strong, healthy young man, with bright prospects of a long and useful life, but a tuberculous tumor having formed on the right side of his throat, he had it removed. For several days after the operation he seemed to be getting along nicely, but went out too soon, fever set up and septicemia followed, which caused his death. He was a bright, manly young fellow, 26 years old, full of life and spirit, the pride of fond parents hearts, and his untimely death is a sad blow to them and his brothers and sisters.

The funeral took place Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Baptist Church.

Graefenburg.

The elections are over and the people are at peace once more.

The farmers are enjoying this most excellent spring weather and all are very busy preparing for their crops.

Our town and community has lost a most excellent citizen in the death of Mr. Abel Jenkins, which sad event occurred at his late residence. His funeral service took place at the Methodist Church, conducted by Rev. George Darsie. A suitable obituary will soon be prepared for the readers of the ROUNDABOUT.

R. S. Clark has purchased a farm near Shelbyville and will remove to his new home shortly.

Rev. Mahoney, of Waddy, is conducting a series of meetings at the Christian Church. He is quite earnest in the presentation of the truth. Preaching every evening.

J. B. Pemberton and Judge Tipton, of Shelbyville attended the funeral of Mr. Jenkins last Sunday.

U. W. Darlington has returned from Florida, where he spent three months for the benefit of his health. He does not seem to be very favorably impressed with Florida as a State, though he was delighted with the climate. We are glad to say his health is somewhat improved.

Mrs. Jennie Collins, who has been quite ill for the past month, is improving.

F. A. Crutcher and wife, of Woodford county, made a flying business trip to our town this week. We hear that they are thinking of returning to our town to live.

Our hustling merchant, Mr. L. Blythe, spent Wednesday in Shelbyville on business.

Rev. E. H. Godby will fill his regular appointment at the Methodist Church next Sunday. Bro. Godby is an excellent preacher and the Methodist Church is very fortunate in having him as pastor.

We have the most quiet, business-like little town in any of these adjoining counties. Religiously and morally we will compare quite favorably with the best of them. Our merchants are perfectly reliable and sell goods cheaper than they can be bought in some of the larger places where competition is greater. We print no papers, nor blow no horns, as some of these little so called cities do, but we are quiet and peaceable, pursuing the even tenor of our way.

Got Scraped.

A picked up nine of base ballists went from this city to Lexington on Saturday and played a game with the Lexington club. Our boys were badly done up, as the score stood 22 to 4 against them when the game closed.

A severe rheumatic pain in the left shoulder had troubled Mr. J. H. Loper, a well-known druggist, of Des Moines, Iowa, for over six months. At times the pain was so severe that he could not lift anything. With all he could do he could not get rid of it until he applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm. "I only made three applications of it," he says, "and have since been free from all pain." He now recommends it to persons similarly afflicted. It is for sale by P. H. CAMPBELL, South Side Druggist.

How Much Rain Will Fall?

The Weekly Courier-Journal has struck a popular note in its weather guessing contests. A wonderful amount of interest was taken in its offer of $1,000 for the closest guesses to the coldest day and temperature during February, at Louisville, and much valuable information was gathered by subscribers on the subject. This contest has just been decided, there being twenty-eight lucky guessers. The Weekly Courier-Journal now makes another offer on the same line. For the closest guesses to the amount of rain that will fall at Louisville during the month of May, the Weekly Courier-Journal will give $1,000. This money will be divided into nineteen presents—one of $500, two of $100 each, two of $50 each, four of $25 each, and ten of $10 each. Each guess must be accompanied by $1, to pay for one year's subscription to the Weekly Courier-Journal, the best Democratic paper published. The rainfall is scientifically measured, to the hundredth part of an inch. The heaviest rainfall in May during the past twenty years was seven inches and forty-six hundredths of an inch. The lightest was one inch even. The measurements are made by the Government officials of the Weather Bureau at Louisville. Sample copies of the paper, with full particulars of the contest, will be sent free to any address. Write at once, as under no circumstances will any guesses be received after April 30th. Address Weekly Courier-Journal, Louisville, Ky.

THE REPUBLICAN LEAGUE.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED TO MAKE ARRANGEMENTS FOR THE MEETING.

Gov. McKinley Invited.

The meeting of the Garfield Republican Club on Thursday evening was well attended and a great deal of enthusiasm was manifested.

A resolution was adopted inviting Gov. Wm. McKinley, of Ohio, to be present at the meeting of the State League on May 31st and address the members.

The committee of arrangements reported that all railroads leading into the city would give reduced rates to delegates and that Saxton's full brass band, of Lexington, had been engaged to furnish music for the occasion.

The following list of committees was announced who will have charge of the arrangements for the meeting of the State League and will see that the delegates are handsomely entertained:

John Abraham's Job.

Capt. John E. Abraham, formerly of the city, has been recommended by the designating board for appointment as Steamboat Hull Inspector for this district, and will be appointed to the position by the Secretary of the Treasury. Capt. Abraham is one of the cleverest fellows in the world and has a host of friends here and all along the river, from the mouth to Beattyville. He was born and reared in Henry county and during the war served as a private in the 9th Kentucky (Confederate) Cavalry. Since the war he has been more or less connected with the river and has owned an interest in and operated several boats in the Kentucky river, and is at present master of the steamer Falls City. He represented Henry county in the Legislature six or eight years ago, was a faithful and useful member, and is going to serve the Government as faithfully in the new position for which he has been selected.

Fell From a Ladder.

Mr. Harry B. O'Donnell, of the dry goods firm of Weitzel & O'Donnell, was attempting to arrange some goods upon a top shelf in his store yesterday morning, when the step-ladder he was standing upon slipped from under him, letting him fall upon the floor and injuring his back so severely that he had to be placed upon a cot and taken to his home in South Frankfort. The physicians who examined him think no bones were broken, but that his injury consisted of a severe sprain of the back, and that he will soon be all right again.

Benefit Your Eyes.

Dr. A. Goldstein, the optic specialist of Louisville, whose reputation and skill in his profession is well known by thousands of our best people who wear his glasses and have been benefited by the use of them, is in the city. Doctor Goldstein has the most modern scientific instruments. The smallest possible amount of eye strain or error of refraction is detected, and by appliance of proper glasses all pains, such as neuralgia, dizziness, &c., will be relieved. The glasses are ground of the finest material to suit each eye. Call at Capital Hotel parlor. Office hours from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Consultation free.

SHIPPED TO CHICAGO.

A Fine Lot of Horses to be Sold in That City.

A lot of forty-four as finely bred trotters as ever left the State were shipped from this city yesterday to go into the great horse sale at Chicago next week. They were the property of the best breeders in this section and should bring good prices. Messrs. S. Black & Son contributed to the number eight head of as fine three and four year olds as ever went under the hammer; Col. R. P. Pepper sent eighteen finely bred youngsters; Mr. John C. Noel, his fine young horse Buffalo Bill, considered to be the fastest of his age in the country; A. W. Macklin, two fine ones; John T. Murphy, five fine roadsters; Jas. S. Darnell, the pacer Andy Wilkes, 2:18, and Success, 2:26 $\frac{3}{4}$; Bowen & Holton, eight head, and George B. Hays four nice ones.

Messrs. Howard Black, of this county, and Jesse Hambrick and Lew Coleman, of Stamping Ground, accompanied the stock.

The Club Organized.

A number of persons interested in the national game met at the office of Mr. L. B. Marshall on Thursday afternoon and perfected the organization of the Thorn Hill Base Ball Club for the season. As soon as the park is completed the club will be ready for games, as the members have already begun to practice.

Spend Your Outing on the Great Lakes.

Visit picturesque Mackinac Island. It will only cost you about $12.50 from Detroit; $15 from Toledo; $18 from Cleveland, for the round trip, including meals and berths. Avoid the heat and dust by traveling on the D. & C. floating palaces. The attractions of a trip to the Mackinac region are unsurpassed. The island itself is a grand romantic spot, its climate most invigorating. Two new steel passenger steamers have just been built for the upper lake route, costing $300,000 each. They are equipped with every modern convenience, annunciators, bath rooms, etc., illuminated throughout by electricity, and are guaranteed to be the grandest, largest and safest steamers on fresh water. These steamers favorably compare with the great ocean liners in construction and speed. Four trips per week between Toledo, Detroit, Alpena, Mackinac, St. Ignace, Petoskey, Chicago, "Soo," Marquette and Duluth. Daily between Cleveland and Put-in-Bay. The cabins, parlors and staterooms of these steamers are designed for the complete entertainment of humanity under home conditions; the palatial equipment, the luxury of the appointments, makes traveling on these steamers thoroughly enjoyable. Send for illustrated descriptive pamphlet. Address A. A. SCHANTZ, G. P. & T. A., D. & C., Detroit, Mich.

Rev. Melone is all right again. Miss Fannie Melone has purchased a bran new organ of G. P. Skinner, representing Baldwin & Co.

Miss Cleo Skinner is instructing a class in instrumental music and boarding at Oscar Duncan's. Her pupils are advancing wonderfully.

Rev. Godbey had a very valuable horse to become entangled in a wire fence and was so cut up with barb wire that he will not be fit for service for several weeks.

Mr. Joe Snooks met with the misfortune to have his barn and fire horse and buggy burned last Tuesday. No insurance. We would presume that it was the work of an incendiary.

We have an occasional reminder that this country is sadly in need of a very strict dog law, at least the sheep probably think so.

We warn the Democrats of this district that the nomination of Breckinridge means a Republican Congressman.

There is universal expression of sympathy and sorrow in regard to the untimely fate of Rector Crittenden. He was a frequent visitor here, before going to California, and had become a great favorite.

If it be true that "future events cast their shadows before," there is a wedding near at hand here or hereabouts. Don't ask who.

Wouldn't you like to see that gun with which Miss Madge made the handsome Kentucky Colonel lose his wits? What Kentucky Colonel wouldn't promise to marry a lady if it was her special request? Kentucky Colonels are the very soul of gallantry.

It is just about time our foreign-born citizens should learn that the stars and stripes is the most appropriate flag to spread to the breeze in this country, no matter what the occasion. A few days ago an Irish citizen of Louisville, expressed his preference for the American flag to the Irish colors on St. Patrick's day, whereupon another Irish citizen proceeded to carve him with a knife. This is not Americanism.

Congress should pass a law compelling a secret trial of all public scandal cases. It is a shame that the public press should fill the homes of our mothers, wives and sisters with the filth and nastiness now being ground out in Washington.

BULLDOGS.

Admitted the Facts.

Newspaper editors have to be very careful in opening their columns for statements. But aware that the Dr. Miles Medical Co. are responsible, we make room for the following testimonial from H. McDougall, Auburn, Ind., who for two years noticed a stoppage or skipping of the pulse, his left side got so tender he could not lie on it, his heart fluttered, he was alarmed, went to different doctors, found no relief but one bottle of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure cured him. The elegant book, "New and Startling Facts," free at J. W. Gayle's. It tells all about heart and nervous diseases and many wonderful cures.

Medium to good leaf.....11 00 to 15 00
Good to fine leaf.....15 00 to 18 00
Select or wrappery.....18 00 to 21 00

"Perhaps you would not think so, but a very large proportion of diseases in New York comes from carelessness about catching cold," says Dr. Syrus Edson. "It is such a simple thing and so common that very few people, unless it is a case of pneumonia, pay any attention to a cold. New York is one of the healthiest places on the Atlantic coast, and yet there are a great many cases of catarrh and consumption which have their origin in this neglect of the simplest precaution of everyday life." Dr. Edson does not tell you how to cure a cold but we will. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will relieve the lungs, aid expectoration, open the secretions and soon effect a permanent cure. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by P. H. Carpenter, South Side Druggist.
